

University of Applied Sciences

Global Citizenship in Education & Social Work (GC)

Minor

Step up to Saxion

saxion.nl/schoolofeducation

in Education &

Practical information

About Saxion

Saxion University of Applied Sciences is one of the largest institutions of its kind in the Netherlands, with close to 27,000 students. Saxion has campuses in the East of the Netherlands in the cities of Deventer, Enschede and Apeldoorn. Our international student population tops 3,500 students with a total of 89 different nationalities. At Saxion we aim to make the transition for foreign students as smooth as possible. On our website saxion.edu, under 'Studying at Saxion', you will find all you need to know about scholarships, finance, housing, host families, buddy programmes and more.

The Minor Global Citizenship in Education and Social Work is provided in Deventer from September 2018 until the end of January 2019 and will also be available in Enschede from February 2019 onwards.

Deventer
Handelskade 75
P.O. Box 70.000
7500 KB Enschede
The Netherlands
Tel. +31 (0)88 019 6262

Enschede
Van Galenstraat 20
(Building Edith Stein)
P.O. Box 70.000
7500 KB Enschede
The Netherlands
Tel. +31 (0)88 019 6262

Contact

For further information feel free to contact the International Office of the School of Education:

☎ +31 (0)88 019 6262

✉ internationaloffice.apoe@saxion.nl

saxion.nl/schoolofeducation

University
of Applied Sciences

SAXION

Global Citizenship
Social Work (GC)

Minor

saxion.nl/schoolofeducation

Step up to Saxion

A global citizen in Education & Social Work has the ability to use knowledge and skills about global citizenship in his/her own profession. The practice-based, multi-disciplinary and intercultural approach of the programme (courses, research and practical activities) will ensure that Global Citizenship will become part of the professional identity of each student. We focus on the local communities and neighborhoods; because that is where the global meets the local!

Minor
Global Citizenship
in Education & Social Work (GC)
where global meets local

Themes

Global Citizenship, Identity, Multiple identities, Global Technologies, Migration and cultural diversity, Personal & Social Identity, National identity – transnational identity, Cultural awareness and diversity, Ethics and moral diversity, Working as a professional in local communities and schools, Practices of global citizenship, Anti-Radicalization, Language learning.

“Learn to both look and think beyond borders.”

Programme

The minor is intended for all students, especially students in education and social work, usually students in their third or fourth year of study. The minor consists of a basic programme (10 weeks, 15 ECTS) and a period of practical research, a study trip and activities in work field practice (10 weeks, 15 ECTS).

Basic programme

Global Citizenship refers to the challenge for people, professionals and communities to engage with a variety of global and local identities and moralities and enable people to work together in a globally connected and intercultural environment. The world of the young professional is characterized by a growing interplay between people, organizations and cultures in general. People are in permanent contact with the global, even in the local realm, and intercultural encounters are a daily reality in our villages and neighborhoods. An important question for 21st century citizenship is how to manage identities. Another important question for modern citizenship is how to deal with ethical, social, political and other issues in a world of diversity.

Basic programme <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 1 Perspectives on Global Citizenship 2 Identity in the 21 first century 3 Ethics in a world of diversity 4 Tackling radicalization 5 Intercultural communication 	10 weeks (15 ECTS)
Research in practice <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 6 Global Citizenship in practice 7 Portfolio 8 Professional profile 	10 weeks (15 ECTS)

Multidisciplinary and international

This minor wants to facilitate (international) students from different study programs to work together in a multidisciplinary team. The minor is designed especially for teachers and social workers. We will combine the knowledge, insights and skills from these different (and international) backgrounds to create a dynamic and explorative environment to study Global Citizenship in the context of various practices, especially teaching and social work.

We spend a week in the capital city of Europe: Brussels! A fantastic experience! The study trip to Brussels marks the transition from the basic programme to the research placement. The programme in Brussels presents you with a comprehensive range of challenges both as a professional and as a person. The key aim is to connect your experiences during this trip to your competencies as a global citizen.

Work and research in local practice

As part of global citizenship in practice, you will learn from good-practices and design projects and activities of your own and implement them in practice. Also internships are possible. Special attention will be given to the local neighborhoods and communities where social work and education come together. You keep a record of your learning-process and of all your experiences in your portfolio.

“Meet other students from all over Europe and beyond.”

